JUST LIKE ON THE OLD FRONTIER

A FORT on the side of the hill in Porterville's Murry park, and Indian teepee poles below and to the left, mark start of construction on a new, imaginative playground area that is being developed as a community project by the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce. The total project that will cover the park's south hillside, will be Jay Cee Adventure land; the section now being worked on is Frontier land, that will include, with the fort and teepees, a Conestoga wagon, two cannons, a totem pole, and Indian grinding bowls, all constructed for children to play on. More than 20 Jay Cee members worked on the project over the past weekend; donating equipment and material were Jim Flynn, Gene Quiram, Porterville Ready Mix, Webb & Son, and Muller Irrigation. General chairman is Jack Shannon; it is hoped to have the Frontier land section completed by summer.

COTTON WIVES SHOW FEB. 12

TULARE - "Fabulous Fashions" will be the theme of a show to be presented by the Tulare County Cotton Wives Auxiliary and the County 4-H Home Economics Advisory council, next Wednesday, February 12, 2:30 p.m. in the Home Economics building on the Tulare county fair grounds as a feature of the California

HOSPITALITY HOUSE AT SHOW

TULARE - A hospitality center will be operated by Tulare County Hi-4-H members during the California Farm Equipment show on the Tulare County fair grounds February 11-12-13, with Sandy Scrivner and John Hendron representing the Porterville area.

Also on display will be a 15-minute slide tape presentation "I Am 4-H," telling the story of 4-H work as written by current county All-Stars.

Greatest Farm Machinery Show Runs February 11-13 In Tulare

TULARE - With some 250 exhibitors, most of them nationally-known manufacturers of all types of farm machinery, "going all out," the second annual California Farm Equipment show set for the Tulare County fair grounds in Tulare February 11-12-13 will be the largest event of its kind ever held in the valley - and possibly on the west coast.

The first show, held a year ago, filled the fair ground area that is used during fair-time for the carnival midway, and partially filled an exhibit building.

This year outdoor exhibits will cover not only the carnival area, but also the infield area in front of the fair grandstand and will fill an exhibit building.

Agricultural Extension service programs for both men and women have been arranged for all three days of the show, with Farm Advisor Steve Sibbett and Home Advisor Mary Ruth Dewey working as coordinators. Details and time schedules for these programs appears on page 4.

Big social event of the show will be a banquet for farmers, business men and exhibitors the evening of February 11 in the Tulare Memorial building, with a social hour at 7 p.m. and with barbecued steaks at 8 p.m.

Speaker will be Calvin D. Johnson, former United States Congressman from Illinois and now a special consultant on public affairs for the New Holland division of Sperry Rand. A strong advocate of the free enterprise system, Johnson is a former member of the House agricultural committee who has spoken before hundreds of business and farm groups throughout the United States.

Banquet tickets - which also include a chance at a number of door prizes donated by Tulare business firms, can be obtained from members of the Tulare Kiwanis club or at the office of the Greater

Pest Control Meet Tomorrow Morning At Terra Bella

TERRA BELLA - Methods and materials for citrus pest controls will be discussed at a public meeting in the Terra Bella Memorial building, 9 a.m. until 12 noon tomorrow, Friday, with Garry Suthers, Tulare County Farm Advisor, as moderator.

Subjects to be covered include: Use and safety precautions involving petroleum spray oils; and economic control of citrus red mite, California red scale, thrip, and unarmored scales.

The meeting is one in a series

FARM CENTER TO CONSIDER WELFARE

PORTERVILLE - Suggested reforms in the national, state and county welfare program will be presented at a meeting of the Porterville Farm Bureau Center to be held next Wednesday evening, February 12, 7 p.m., at Rosso's in Woodville.

The program will be presented by Harry Scruggs, of Springville, a member of the Tulare County Citizen's Welfare Advisory committee. Presiding will be Doug Peltzer, Center chairman.

Reservations must be in by Monday, February 10.

BIG SOUND AND BIG LOOK FEATURE 1969 CITY OF HOPE SPECTACULAR ON AUDITORIUM STAGE SATURDAY

PORTERVILLE - Big sound and big look of production numbers will feature the 1969 City of Hope Spectacular on the Porterville Memorial auditorium stage Saturday night. Curtain time for this charity show that puts the best of local talent in front of the lights is set for 8 p.m.

Director-Producer Buck Shaffer has booked three groups in production numbers - the fast-moving, colorful Debonair Dancers, from Bakersfield, directed by John Soiu; highlight scenes from the Porterville college production of "South Pacific," under direction of John Lawson with Ann Gilbertson as the singing star; and Doc Small's Medicine show, featuring Big John Hall, artist of the bull whip, and Gene "Doc Small" Duncan.

Two singing groups will be on stage - the high school girls' glee club, directed by John Vaznaian; and the Madrigal Singers, directed by David Rasmussen.

Backing the show and working in featured spots will be the Fabulous Studio band, directed by Shaffer, with trumpet soloist Mel Gosage interpreting "And The Angels Sing." Chris Beckley will be at the organ before curtain time and during intermission; Bill Rodgers will again MC the show.

Presented as "The Find of '69" will be Miss Terry Estabrook, vocalist, a freshman at Monache high school; the singing star of past shows, Gary Garcia, will be back, along with Shirley Hughes, Mary Ortiz, Mark Delmarter, Alice Tice and Bob Anderson.

Erlene Carpenter will give an original, inspirational reading; (Continued On Page 8)

BUCK SHAFFER, producer and director of the City of Hope Spectacular that will be staged in the Porterville Memorial auditorium Saturday night, February 8, with curtain time at 8 p.m. Shaffer says the show this year will have the "big look" with production numbers, as well as individual entertainers, and the "big sound" as his Fabulous Studio band backs the acts and is also featured. The annual show is a benefit for the City of Hope Medical facility at Duarte in southern California and is sponsored by the Porterville City of Hope Auxiliary.

DEDICATED TO the memory of the late Ralph Bernier is the 1969 City of Hope Spectacular that will be produced in the Porterville Memorial auditorium Saturday night. Bernier, talented pianist and composer, appeared as a top artist in a number of City of Hope shows; he was killed in a car accident shortly after performing in last year's Spectacular.

LIONS SEND $640 TO M.O.D.

SPRINGVILLE - The Springville Lions club has sent $640.55 to the March of Dimes fund as returns from annual ham dinner served in the Memorial auditorium, January 19. The amount, although below average, is more than was anticipated since heavy rains and flooding cut heavily into the evening crowd.

THE WINNERS - Porterville's organization of the year - the Porterville Emblem club, represented by President Grace Scanlon; man of the year, Virgil Lowe; and woman of the year (for the second time) Waltraut Wilson. The presentations were made at 62nd annual banquet of the Porterville chamber of commerce, held Saturday night in the Monache High school cafeteria, by last year's winners: George Kralowec, exalted ruler of the Porterville Lodge of Elks, the Elks being last year's organization winner; by Joe Faure, man of the year last year; and by Myrtle Wiens, woman of the year last year.

Editorial Comment

ENLIGHTENED THINKING

In keeping with the current enlightened trend in academic circles to place students on policy-making groups at colleges and universities, there is a hush-hush plan underway by the more progressive and liberal football coaches of the nation to apply the philosophy of student-participation-in-school-policy to football during the 1969 season.

In an exclusive interview with a nationally famous coach who for some reason or other wants to remain anonymous, we learn that his secret attack on a No. 1 rating in 1969 will be utilization of a policy committee of players to advise not only the quarterback but this coach himself on game plan, the sequence of offensive plays and defensive formations.

"Through use of this system," says the coach, "we will protect the rights of all concerned and we will allow boys who are still learning to play the game to have a policy voice in how the game should be played."

Stating that since this line of reasoning is now considered sound in academic circles the same reasoning must surely apply to a football team, the anonymous coach further explained that in the offensive and defensive huddles, the advisory player committee will discuss plays and formations with the team captain and the quarterback, and will at all times, have authority to call a time-out to advise the coach on how to advise the quarterback.

The time-out provision is included to avoid confusion.

In connection with this new system, the coach explains that it will be clearly understood by his player policy committee that if the advice of these boys who are learning to play the game on how to play the game is not accepted by the coach, quarterback, and/or team captain, then the offended players will have full right and authority to picket the gates and burn down the stadium.

THE ACCEPTABILITY of current meat products for obese persons and others on fat-restricted diets were discussed this month at a conference on beef and health at the University of California at Davis. Sponsored by the University and the California Beef Council, the group of physicians, animal scientists and food technologists endorsed current meat products - properly prepared - for fat-restricted diets and praised the cooperation and continuing program of product improvement of California's beef industry. Shown at a demonstration of carcass composition held during the program are Dr. William N. Garrett, center, of U.C. Davis, who conducted the demonstration, Miss Elva Hiscock, research dietician at the L. A. Veterans Administration hospital; and Walter T. Rodman, manager of the Council.

REPORTS ON the year to come and the year just gone were given Saturday night at 62nd annual banquet of the Porterville chamber of commerce by Aubrey M. Lumley, 1969 president, top, and Sandy Ward, 1968 president, "shot" at the banquet with their wives. In lower photo, Master of Ceremonies Van Goodman, and Mrs. Goodman.

Low Rent Housing Is Being Sought In Tulare County

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Bob Mathias has announced that the U.S.

Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a program for leasing an additional 200 low rent homes in Tulare county.

Under the program, the Housing Authority of Tulare county will seek to find and lease appropriate dwellings, that will then be rented to low income tenants at rental rates within their means. HUD has contracted with the Housing Authority to cover that part of the rent not paid by the tenants.

The Housing authority is seeking the cooperation of realtors and property owners to locate appropriate dwellings as promptly as possible. Dwellings may be leased by the Authority for periods of from one to five years. The leased homes will remain on the tax rolls and the property owners will pay full property taxes.

STATE WARDENS MAKE ARRESTS

SACRAMENTO - California Fish and Game wardens made 16,073 arrests for violations of fish and game laws and regulations during 1968, the Department of Fish and Game has reported. Violators paid a total of $466,552 in fines and served a total of 1,672 days in jail for the offenses.

Net result of January storms to dry-farmed grain and livestock ranges has been beneficial, although there has been considerable erosion in the foothill areas of the state.

DISNEYLAND TRIP PLANNED BY YMCA GROUP

PORTERVILLE - Tulare County YMCA Club members and friends are signing up for annual YMCA Disneyland trip to be held March 1.

The trip is not restricted to Y-Club members according to the Rev. Ted Vallembois, "Y" chairman for Porterville. Any boy or girl, 4th grade and above may sign up as long as seating space is available, he says.

Cost for the round trip is $15.00 for YMCA members and $18.00 for non-Y members. This includes the Jumbo-Magi-Pack size tickets to Disneyland, trip insurance, adult supervision and transportation by Orange Belt Chartered Bus.

Reservations are limited to 200 and may be made at the YMCA, 165 E. Putnam avenue, Porterville, phone 784-8192.

VINCE SCHWEERS NAMED PRESIDENT

VISALIA - Vince Schweers, farm advisor in Tulare county, has been elected president of the California Weed conference. Goal of the organization is to extend information on weed control to all interested persons.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS

RABBI EDGAR F. MAGNIN, L.A. - "To paraphrase Mark Twain, the reports of religion's death are greatly exaggerated. Pews in churches and synagogues are well filled, even when the ritual is performed with dignity, solemnity and the aesthetic quality that comes with centuries of hallowed tradition."

KATHLEEN SCULLION, SF school teacher and beauty contest finalist - "A girl's looks are not really important. What makes a girl beautiful is something within her ... being true, helping others."

MRS. JUDITH CRIST, Hollywood TV magazine movie critic - "The severe critics actually love the medium they criticize. They dream a dream of perfection, suffer disappointment whenever the dream isn't realized and rejoice when it is."

"WE'VE GIVEN THEM EVERYTHING ... HAVEN'T WE?"

The best schooling, good clothes, a comfortable home ... all these are important.

But don't they need answers to the big questions — such as Who is God? What is God? Where is God? What does He have to do with me?

Your children's sense of security and lasting happiness may well depend on being given good and useful answers to these important questions.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children learn to know God, to feel a closeness to Him, and to turn to Him for the spiritual resources they need to strengthen and enrich their lives.

Isn't this something you would like to give your children? Why not bring them next Sunday morning at (hour and place of Sunday School)

REPORTS GIVEN AT ROCKFORD 4-H MEETING

ROCKFORD - Reports on club activities were given at January meeting of the Rockford 4-H club, held in the multi-purpose room of the Rockford school, with President Kathy Briano presiding.

Presenting reports were: David Koontz, treasurer; Carrie Lunstad, secretary; Fred Hughes, reporter; Cathleine Bays, horse project; Diane Warnkie, Lynn Hornsby, Cynthia Nelson, Teresia Pharr, and Annette Hochuli, members of Mrs. Nelson's cooking group; and Danny Mortensen, rabbit project.

Jim Billiou reported on the club snow party; Susanna Borba on the Christmas party; and Virginia Hochuli on community service. Following the business session, slides were shown on Italy, France and other countries.

Flag salute was led by Frankie Borba; 4-H pledge by Kay Blackburn.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

MAYBE THOSE fearless Porterville Jay Cees can beat the rap on building a log fort in the Murry park kiddie play area without getting a city building permit, but they'll never get away without putting a sidewalk around it.

SO, IT looks like something more than a little go-round in Porterville's city council election, April 1. As we go to press (with still another day before filing deadline) it looks like two "old campaigners" will be in the field - Incumbent Mayor Marty Martin, seeking reelection, and a former mayor, Aubrey M. Lumley, trying for a return to the council. Also with nomination papers out is Charles McLaughlin, who has not before run for local office, as far as we know, but who is certainly no stranger to politics; Lawrence E. Jackson is also a contender; Gil Ynigues is expected to be in the field; and there is some scuttlebut concerning a couple of last-minute starters ... Three vacancies will exist on the council, which means that everyone can't win, and which also means there will no doubt be a bit of hustling campaigning with the possibility of personalty overtones ... Two other councilmen whose terms are expiring, Mac Williams and Bill Benson, have given no indication that they will seek reelection.

SPEAKING OF politics, we herewith and hereby propose that if U. S. Congressmen and U. S. Senators vote themselves the fantastic pay raise that they are considering, then we the people should demand that they make their elected jobs full-time employment, and that they cut all connections with private business or profession. This, we feel, is particularly important in regard to attorneys who can now get themselves elected to the Congress of the United States and still retain a law practice and still accept fees on a retainer basis, thereby opening the door to all sorts of conflict of interest and lucrative financial situations ... Congressmen make great publicity out of investigating conflict of interest in regard to various federal appointees. It's time we demand that they become equally diligent and determined about cutting off their own conflict of interest potential.

FARM MACHINERY SHOW

Tulare chamber of commerce.

Of special interest to women will be a show of "Fabulous Fashions," staged by Tulare County Cotton Wives and the 4-H Home Economics Advisory council the afternoon of February 12.

Another highlight will be a meeting of the California State board of agriculture on the fair grounds, February 13. Heading this board is Allan Grant, who is also president of the California Farm Bureau Federation and a past president of the Tulare County Farm Bureau.

Official sponsors of the California Farm Equipment show are the Agri-Business committee of the Greater Tulare chamber of commerce, and the University of California Agricultural Extension service.

General chairman of the show committee is Kent Kough, of Tulare; show manager is Norm Repanich, secretary-manager of the Greater Tulare chamber of commerce.

Extension service programs, conducted daily by Farm Advisors, will center around deciduous fruit crops, field crops, the dairy industry, and citrus.

Women's programs, conducted by Home Advisors, will generally cover the uses and preparation of products in these same fields.

In the exhibit areas of the show, the newest, most modern equipment related to all types of agriculture will be displayed, in addition to insecticides, irrigation equipment, tires, electronic equipment used in connection with agriculture, seeds, fertilizers, and foreign-made items that are coming onto the American market.

Last year - at the first show in Tulare, limited to field and row crop equipment with 160 exhibitors - more than 30,000 persons attended.

This year with a complete range of agricultural equipment on display and with some 250 exhibitors, even larger daily crowds are being anticipated.

There is no gate charge for the show, and no charge for any of the special programs that will be presented on the fair grounds.

The weather this year hasn't been much but it's the only kind we have and we'll probably have to get used to it. One thing for sure it can only get better which it will probably do about the middle of this month. The longer days gradually crowd the fog out and the rain doesn't come so often or seem so bad with warmer weather.

More interesting kinds of bulbs have arrived despite the snow, rain, or dark of night. Amongst these are new types of tuberous begonias, beautiful red amaryllis, lily of the valley, dwarf canna, tuberose, and a lot more stuff we hope you're interested in. These are mostly easy to grow and guaranteed to make your yard so beautiful you'll think you're living in Santa Barbara. In fact you can throw a gallon of oil on the front lawn and pretend you have a beach front cottage.

The camellias are again in full bloom in case you would like to pick your color. There are pink ones, red ones, and striped ones. You may buy four of these for ten dollars complete with a gallon of expensive California soil. Buy often and you'll have enough soil to build your own lot somewhere.

Our joint is now open Sundays come rain or come shine. You are most welcome to browse around, ask questions, or let us fill your trunk with instant color.

BEE HAND LABOR IS ON WAY OUT

SAN MATEO - Hand labor is rapidly on the way out in the California sugar beet industry. Electronic thinners, precision planting, and sophisticated chemical weed controls are combining to eliminate the costly and time-consuming practice of hand thinning of sugar beets. That was the message when over 700 sugar beet growers converged on the San Joaquin Valley fairgrounds in Stockton for the recent Sugar Beet Machinery fair.

California turkey growers plan to produce one per cent more turkeys this year than in 1968.

CONSERVATION PROGRAM AT DUCOR 4-H

DUCOR - Jerry Swartzlander, assistant state forest ranger, California Division of Forestry, Fountain Springs, was guest speaker at the Monday night Ducor 4-H meeting in the school cafeteria, and also showed a film on conservation.

During the business meeting, conducted by President Donna Evans, members discussed the snow party rescheduled for Saturday, February 15, at Sugar Loaf.

On Heart Sunday, February 16, members will wear their uniforms and meet at the Community Center at one o'clock to help collect contributions from the residents of the Ducor area.

Darrell Fleetwood led the flag salute, Debbie Parker the 4-H pledge, and Tim Keen and Charles DeLaney gave project reports. Janice Taylor and Janie Carver gave reports concerning beef.

Mrs. Gordon Todd, club leader, announced that entries for the Cow Palace are due February 15, the Dress Review will be April 15, and the next Hi-4-H meeting will be in Visalia.

Refreshments were served by Denny and David McDaniel, Margie Keen, and Vicki Fox.

BOOZE SHOP or TOY SHOP?

O. K. WISE GUY - IT'S NEITHER ONE - IT'S YE BOTTLE SHOPPE

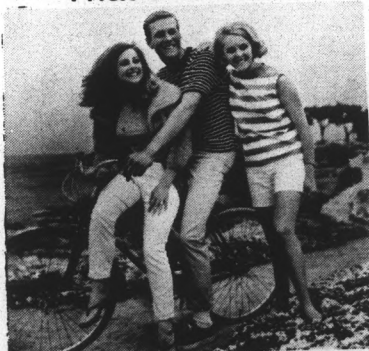

And them bottles at left is full of champagne - bright, beautiful, sparkling champagne which we love so much we only sell it to people with money ... And them toys up above ain't toys. They are bottles of booze which when emptied become collectors' items and which we sell only to our friends who is anybody with money ... And we've got a couple a thousand more bottles of whatever kind of booze you want to trade us out of for money ... Just ask for Curt or Ralph or Al and you'll see whether Ye Bottle Shoppe is a toy shoppe or a booze shoppe ... You bet you will - if you have money.

Antelope Census Highest Since Count Began

SACRAMENTO - The 1969 census of California antelope disclosed 2,875 animals, the highest count recorded since the present counting system began in 1953, the Department of Fish and Game reports.

The annual aerial census was conducted on winter ranges in Modoc, Lassen, Siskiyou, and Shasta counties January 12-18, the DFG said. The total of 2,875 pronghorns represents a 10 percent increase over the 1968 figure of 2,607.

ONE OF America's most important concert attractions, the New York Pro Musica, under the direction of John Reeves White, will appear the evening of February 11 in the Porterville Memorial auditorium as a feature of the Porterville Community Concert association series. Instrumentalists who perform on instruments that were used in the 13th century, and vocalists in the group are internationally known and recognized. The Pro Musica concert is said to be "an exciting excursion into the great musical past; sacred works first performed in the cathedrals of the 13th century in France; lusty song, dances and delicate ballads from the medieval French court and countryside; dramatic pieces of Renaissance Spain; music in the great Flemish tradition; and the sounds of the glittering Tudor reign in England." The group will also present, in full costume, the 13th century music dramas, "The Play of Daniel" and "The Play of Herod."

DEATH VALLEY PROGRAM MONDAY

PORTERVILLE - "Death Valley the Year 'Round" is the title of the film-lecture to be presented by Ralph Welles at 8 p.m. Monday, February 10, in the Porterville Memorial auditorium. This will be the first of the forums in the spring series, which are sponsored by the Adult Education division of the Porterville Union High School district. The forum is open to the public and programs are presented without charge.

COTTON WIVES

Farm Implement show.

Sponsoring the showing of all-cotton women's wear is the Cotton Producers' Institute of Memphis, Tennessee; fashion designs are from McCall's patterns.

Modeling will be Linda Cruff, From Dinuba, 1969 Tulare County Maid of Cotton, and Karen Eisner, of Strathmore, alternate Maid of Cotton, along with Cotton Wives Auxiliary members, Mesdames George Grassel, of Visalia, and Manuel Faria, of Tipton and Cotton Wives daughters, the Misses Jackie and Lynette Terrell and Lisa and Kelly Wyllie, of Tulare.

Commentator for the show will be Mrs. Roscoe Honeycutt, of Tipton; show chairman is Mrs. Kirby Wyllie, of Tulare.

All interested persons are invited to attend the fashion show; there is no charge.

CITY OF HOPE SPECTACULAR

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hogan will appear in Spanish dances.

The entire show this year will be dedicated to the memory of Ralph Bernier, pianist and composer, who appeared on many City of Hope shows. He lost his life in an automobile accident a short time after last year's Spectacular.

The stage production is sponsored by the Porterville Area City of Hope auxiliary, headed by Peter J. Verekois. Money raised goes to the City of Hope medical center at Duarte, dedicated to treatment, research and conquering of catastrophic diseases.

Policy of the medical center is to provide care without regard for race, creed, national origin, or financial status. Almost $20,000 has been raised by City of Hope Spectaculars in the past; some 50 persons from Tulare county, 30 of them from the Porterville area, have been treated at the City of Hope.

Representing the City of Hope Saturday night will be Mel Heininger.

Tickets for the Spectacular, at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students, can be obtained at a number of business firms in Porterville; from members of the Auxiliary; at the Porterville High School Information desk, at the door the night of the show, or from Auxiliary treasurer, Mrs. Leta Armstrong, telephone 784-4723.
